Bias, Esperança

DESIGNATION

"Cardoso was born in Beira, the son of white Portuguese immigrants to colonial Mozambique, where his father ran a dairy processing plant. He was educated in Mozambique and at high school in South Africa, where he went on to attend the University of the Witwatersrand. Cardoso worked as an advisor to Samora Moises Machel, but quit AIM in 1989 to work first as an artist, and later as founder of Mediacoop, an independent press co-operative.
